
Measured T_s and v only: no road-friction input and no reference torque, so the map has no summing junction.